This nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.—Lincoln.

HERE'S TO OLD GLORY, GOD BLESS HER!

If anyone attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot.—John A. Dix.

City Cousin—Now, you farmers don't have the trouble of house-hunting like city folks.

Western Uncle—Don't, eh? Well, I've been hunting for a house that the cyclone carried away for two years, and I haven't found it yet.

Point of the Joke.

He told a funny story,
Which he thought was full of wit;
But the story wasn't funny—
That's the funny part of it.

One Man's Wisdom.

Smith had just handed Brown a $10
bill in settlement of a debt.
"By the way, Brown," said Jones, who had observed the transaction, "I'd like to borrow that ten-spot for a few days. You don't need it right away, do you?"
"No," replied Brown, "but I may need it some time."

Shutting Him Up.

"Yes," said the egotistical person, "I am proud of the fact that I am a self-made man, but, strange to say, I never yet encountered a self-made woman."
"Oh, that is easily explained," replied the auburn-haired female. "One look at a self-made man is enough to disgust a woman with the self-made business."

Such Is Life.

"There is no rest for the weary."
"What's the matter now?"
"Just about the time the discussion as to whether or not bagpipes were musical instruments died out, the same sort of controversy began to rage about the triangle."

Too Much Risk.

"What would you say if I asked you to marry me?"
"Why don't you ask me and find out?"
"Because idle curiosity is always getting somebody into trouble."

MET A MOTORCAR!

Liveryman—Has Softmann brought back that matched pair?
Stableboy—No; nothin' but a patched mare!

Oh, Piffis!

An polished man he tried to pose,
But he even failed at that.
For the only politer that he shows
Is on his shoes and hat.

Feet in Question.

Little Sister—Mamma, when do all the old broomsticks go to?
Mamma—When an old man gets old, his broomsticks go to the grave. For all those brooms that were used to sweep the floor go away on him!

AN OLD MAN'S STOMACH

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablet to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain poison, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

gallons a minute, according to expert water men who have visited it. The owners have announced that the well will be put

er. The water was encountered
